

Wheat Farmers Vote For Tight Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a decisive majority, the nation's wheat farmers have voted for tight controls on their next year's crop in return for a government-guaranteed price averaging $1.81 a bushel.

In doing so, the growers caused Secretary of Agriculture Benson to lay aside a proposal that they seek broader markets at home and abroad by offering the grain at considerably lower prices than would prevail otherwise.

Heavy Support Surprising
Over 328,000 wheat farmers took part in an Agriculture Department referendum on the question Saturday. By a 77½ per cent majority, they voted to continue next year marketing quotas designed to hold wheat production at roughly 30 per cent below postwar peaks. This was well over the two-thirds approval required to put the quotas into effect on the 1956 crop. About one million wheat farmers were eligible to vote in the referendum. The controls are designed to prevent the accumulation of still more surplus stocks of wheat. The heavy support given quotas came as a surprise to many farm leaders because advance reports from various producing areas had indicated a closer vote. These reports stressed farmer dissatisfaction with sharp income reductions resulting from already-imposed cutbacks in wheat production. There had been speculation too that farmers would vote against quotas as a way of registering disapproval of the Eisenhower administration's flexible support program under which Benson can set price props on most basic crops at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, depending on the size of supplies.

Under the program adopted Saturday, growers will be allotted 55 million acres for the next year's wheat crop—the same as this year, but 30 million less than the peak. Farmers will be allowed to sell, free of penalty, wheat grown on their individual shares of the allotment.

The 1956 crop will be supported at 76 per cent of parity, or a national average of $1.81 a bushel under the new flexible price support system. This compares with 82½ per cent, or $2.06, for last year's crop and $2.20 for last year's crop, which was supported at 90 per cent of parity under the now-junked high, rigid support system.

Had growers rejected the 1956 quotas, the support price would have dropped to 50 per cent of parity, or about $1.19 a bushel. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Big 3 To Propose End Of Arms Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France probably will propose at next month's Big Four summit talks that Russia consider a formula for reversing the arms race in Europe.

The idea is one which Secretary of State Dulles considered with British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay during the past 10 days at New York and San Francisco.

"Frontier" Violated
Dulles returned Sunday from the United Nations 10th anniversary ceremonies at San Francisco. He said he was gratified at Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's response to American demands for compensation in the case of a U.S. Navy patrol plane shot down by Soviet jet fighters between Alaska and Siberia last Wednesday.

Landing on an island, the plane burned. Seven of the 11 crewmen suffered burns or injuries. The State Department made public Sunday a note Molotov handed Dulles just before both men left San Francisco Saturday. The Soviets said the airplane had violated Russia's "state frontier." The American government said Soviet MIGs blasted it in a surprise assault over international waters. The State Department said yesterday there was "no possibility of error" as to the U.S. plane's location.

Mistake Possible
However, Molotov expressed regret at the incident and offered to pay one half the damage—an unprecedented offer in such cases. "It is gratifying that he expressed regret," Dulles commented, "and at least expressed willingness to make some reparation, but it is not what we asked for."

The Soviet note, despite its moderate tone, spoke of poor visibility and conceded "the possibility of a mistake from one side or the other."

U.N. Session Successful, Powers And Russia Agree

Women Picked For State Board Of Canvassers

LANSING (AP)—The Republican party today sent Gov. Williams its nominations for two places on the new Board of State Canvassers, rigging its choices so that one of the governor's appointees must be a woman.

The new board, created by the last legislature, will consist of two Republicans and two Democrats named by the governor from party nominations to supervise the state elections system. Each party must nominate three persons for each of its two posts.

One From Marquette
The Republicans packed the nominations for one post with women to insure at least one woman on the board. For the other post the GOP named three men.

The women nominees are Mrs. Paul Goebel, of Grand Rapids, wife of a former mayor of that city; Miss Zoe Schaffer, Benton Harbor attorney, and Mrs. Eleanor Smith, of Lansing, former chairman of the Ingham County Board of Canvassers.

The men nominated for the other post are James Schoener, of Muskegon, state chairman of Young Republicans; Paul Schneider, of Marquette, former Marquette County Republican chairman, and Donald Strong, of Kalamazoo, executive of a printing firm which specializes in ballots and election materials.

Waiting To Resign
The Republican Central Committee, heading the pleas of State Chairman John Feikens to "get it settled," agreed to meet July 9 to elect a successor to David W. Kendall, of Jackson, as GOP national committeeman.

Kendall has been waiting to resign for six months, since he was appointed counsel to the Treasury Department.

Evangelist Draws 65,000 Germans
NUERNBERG, Germany (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham addressed his largest revival meeting crowd in Germany Sunday night—65,000, according to police estimates.

About 9,000 U.S. servicemen and their families were in the audience at the former Nazi party rally grounds here. At the conclusion of Graham's sermon, 6,000 persons—1,200 Americans among them—stepped forward at his urging to make "decisions for Christ."

Helen Keller, 75, Wants No Fuss On Birthday Today

EASTON, Conn. (AP)—This is a summer's day much like any other summer's day at the white clapboard, green-shuttered gift home called Arcan Ridge. At least, that's what Helen Keller and Polly Thomson are trying to pretend.

Actually, of course, it's Helen Keller's birthday, her 75th. And everybody, it seems, is determined to make it an occasion for tribute, for congratulations, for retelling the story of the woman who overcame deafness, blindness and muteness to spend a lifetime writing, talking and working to help others with similar handicaps.

But Miss Helen and Miss Polly, her companion, wish that it was all over. The only things they are really interested in doing at the moment is getting unpacked from their recent round-the-world trip, sorting out a growing mountain of gifts, scrolls and souvenirs which have followed them home by ship and catching up with their correspondence, neglected for almost six months.

"I wish there could be less fuss," exclaimed Polly Thomson. "This isn't what Helen wants. And we've been so busy since we got back that we really must get unpacked. Besides, in the past six months we've seen and talked to everybody. There's not much else to say."

But Miss Helen and Miss Polly, her companion, wish that it was all over. The only things they are really interested in doing at the moment is getting unpacked from their recent round-the-world trip, sorting out a growing mountain of gifts, scrolls and souvenirs which have followed them home by ship and catching up with their correspondence, neglected for almost six months.

Diplomats Set Stage For Peace Talks In Geneva

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Russia and the Western Powers were agreed today that the U.N.'s 10th anniversary session had been well worthwhile.

Both acknowledged that the weeklong meetings had provided an excellent opportunity for diplomatic contacts and that the big power speeches had given each side a better understanding of what to expect at the summit talks in Geneva next month.

Relations Cordial
The anniversary session ended Sunday — just 10 years after the signing of the U.N. Charter—with a declaration by its president, Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens, reaffirming the determination of the 60 nations "to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

The declaration also pledged the U.N. to press forward with disarmament efforts which have just recently begun to make progress.

The session had a few rough moments, when the president wielded the gavel and cautioned restraint, but behind-the-scenes relations between Russia and the Western Powers were unusually cordial.

This was perhaps what Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had in mind when he said at his rare news conference Saturday that the meeting had "achieved positive results in view of the various talks and contacts that have been established."

Disarmament Top Item
These talks resulted in complete agreement on the procedural arrangements for the meeting of the Big Four chiefs of government July 18. The U.N. disclosed Sunday that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld had received a joint request from the four asking permission to use the Palace of Nations, the U.N.'s European headquarters, for the meeting.

On the basis of the speeches and private talks held here, one high Western diplomat made the following observations about the Geneva talks:

1. The Western Powers not only are in full agreement on the policies, but have fully informed other friendly countries, including all the Latin-American republics.
2. The Soviet government is sure to bring up the question of China, which includes both the Formosan problem and China representation in the U.N.
3. The West will try to limit the Geneva meeting to procedure for tackling individual problems, rather than seek solutions.
4. As far as the West is concerned, the first issue is disarmament. The Western position, however, still is under study.
5. The question of German unification and European security probably will be taken up together.

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—Lt. Peter Lee Rodal of Menominee, Mich., an Air Force student pilot, was killed Saturday when his T-33 jet trainer crashed 40 miles northwest of Laredo.

Lt. Rodal was flying in a four-spin formation when his plane suddenly spun earthward. His father lives in Menominee. His widow lives in Laredo.

Police Protect Churchgoers In Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina today released 19 leaders of the Radical party who had been detained since the June 16 revolt against President Juan D. Peron's regime. Four other party members were still held.

Simultaneously, police at Eva Peron, in Buenos Aires Province in eastern Argentina, announced the arrest of two persons identified as Communists and two Radical party members on charges of spreading rumors. The nature of the rumors was not disclosed.

The Radical party is the main opposition group, holding 14 of the 166 seats in the Chamber of Deputies, lower house of Congress. All the other seats are held by Peronists.

Sunday, for the second Sunday since the bloody revolt against the government, police furnished protection for thousands of Catholics thronging churches in Buenos Aires. The worshippers knelt amid wreckage before improvised altars in churches damaged during the revolt and prayed for victims of the uprising.

Noted Tennessee Publisher Dead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Silliman Evans, president-publisher of the Nashville Tennessean and a leader in the national Democratic party, was found dead in his bed Sunday. He died of a heart attack.

The body will be flown to Nashville tonight.

Evans, 61, died in his sleep Saturday night a few hours after attending the funeral of his old friend and former employer Amos G. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, who died Thursday.

The crusading son of a crusading father, Evans rose from virtual obscurity to eminence in the newspaper world and a place of leadership not only in Tennessee politics but in the national Democratic party. He had suffered since World War I from a heart ailment, which caused his discharge from the Army.

The newspaper under Evans' leadership also embarked on a long campaign for repeal of Tennessee's poll tax and battled successfully the political organization headed by the late E. H. Crump.

The Crump machine's defeat in 1948—its first in 20 years—led a state political writer to describe Evans as occupying "the No. 1 place in Tennessee politics." In that campaign Evans supported Browning for governor, Rep. Estes Kefauver for the U.S. Senate and President Truman for re-election.

Seventh Premier Picked In Italy

ROME (AP)—Antonio Segni, 64-year-old farmer, scholar and left-of-center Christian Democrat, has until Thursday to accept or reject an invitation to try to become Italy's seventh postwar premier.

He was asked Sunday night by President Giovanni Gronchi to see if he could line up a new government. Segni said he would investigate the situation further before undertaking the task officially.

As he left the President, Segni said he hoped democratic parties would support him, indicating that, like former Premier Mario Scelba, he would seek a coalition of the center parties — Social Democrats, Liberals and possibly Republicans — to give the Christian Democrats the marginal support they need in Parliament.

Two Boys Perish In Cellar Cavein

NEW YORK (AP)—Two boys were buried alive Sunday night when the dirt wall of an excavation in a Queens housing project collapsed on them.

Two others were pulled to safety before they sank into the wet earth. Police emergency and rescue units sped to the scene, where a group of passers-by, attracted by the screams of one of the boys, were digging with bare hands. A crowd of some 2,000 persons soon gathered.

Saved from the mucky dirt were Billy Cotton, 5, who was buried up to his neck, and Nathaniel Brown, 11. Rescuers reached too late Billy's brother John, 11, and Angel Matos, 7.

Steelworkers Turn Down Inland Pay Raise Offer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—CIO United Steelworkers officials — spurning steel industry offers of 10 and 10½-cent hourly wage increases—met today with the union Wage Policy Committee to chart future negotiations.

Inland Steel Co. submitted the 10½-cent offer Sunday. U. S. Steel Corp.'s 10-cent offer was given last Thursday. The union promptly rejected each offer. The Wage Policy Committee undoubtedly will uphold the rejection.

Deadline Thursday
Union President David J. McDonald has notified 96 basic steel companies and iron ore mining firms the union wants a substantial wage increase. He has not stated any specific figure publicly. He says the union will strike at midnight Thursday if an agreement is not reached.

William G. Caples, vice president and head negotiator for Inland Steel, told newsmen his firm's offer "is no indication that he will not make a new proposal" before Thursday midnight.

U.S. Steel's head negotiator, John A. Stephens, said he is "always optimistic."

The union said telegrams have been sent to all district directors notifying them to begin preparing to shut down steel mills at midnight Thursday. A union spokesman said, however, the action was "routine."

Dickers At Standstill
The union said it has received no offer from any other company. Most of the firms, however, usually wait for U.S. Steel, the world's largest producer, to reach agreement and adopt those terms as a pattern.

Negotiations with all of the companies now are at a standstill. But a union man said "A telephone call can always get them together."

The union's demand for wage hikes affects 600,000 union members in basic steel mills. They now earn an average of $2.33 an hour.

Can't Ask Guarantee
The wage talks are being conducted under a wage reopening clause in a two-year pact signed last year. The union cannot make demands for a guaranteed wage.

Both U.S. Steel and Inland's offers provided for a 6½-cent across-the-board increase and a half-cent increment to be applied between job classifications.

U.S. Steel, with 32 job classifications, estimated the half-cent spread would average 3½ cents more. Inland, with 35 job classifications, estimated the spread at an additional 4 cents.

U.S. steel said its offer would give increases ranging from 6½ cents for the lowest paid workers to 22 cents for the highest paid worker. Inland

Glass Is Hurlled; Guest Injured At Wedding Reception

Ernest Baribeau, 39, of 814 N. 18th St., suffered a scalp laceration Saturday evening at the U. T. C. Club when he was struck on the head by a glass following an argument at a wedding reception, according to Escanaba police.

Raymond Nault, 27, of Chicago, formerly of Escanaba, was arrested by Escanaba police on a charge of assault and battery, on complaint of Baribeau. Nault pleaded not guilty in Justice Henry Ranguette's court to the charge and will be given trial this afternoon.

According to police, who were called to the U.T.C. Club to investigate a fight, Nault was serving refreshments at the reception but refused to serve Baribeau. Baribeau then attempted to serve himself and the argument ensued.

Power Committee, Council To Meet With Bond Officer

The Escanaba City Council and its power advisory committee will meet informally Wednesday noon with John H. Nunneley, representative of the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone, Detroit bonding firm, in consultations connected with a proposed solution to the community's electric power shortage.

Bonding consultants were hired by the city at the recommendation of the power committee, which is considering a proposal of the Upper Peninsula Power Company of Houghton.

The proposal, essentially, is to have the city finance by revenue bonds the construction of a municipal electric generating plant; to have the city lease the plant to the Upper Peninsula Power Company, which would operate the plant and return profits to the city for its general fund without an increase in electric rates.

Nunneley will be consulted by the Council and the committee on a proposed contract with the power company on bonding ordinances required in financing the proposed municipal plant, and on a proposed lease of the plant to the power company.

Scouts Get Gift Of C&NW Bell

For their quick thinking and resourcefulness which prevented a possible train accident, members of Chicago Boy Scout Troop 910, Portage Park District, have been presented with a brass locomotive bell by Paul E. Feucht, president of the Chicago and North Western Railway.

The bell, highly polished and mounted on an oak base was given to the assembled troop of 40 Scouts and their leaders at a brief ceremony this morning in the main waiting room of the North Western station.

Engraved in metal on the base is the following inscription: "Presented to Boy Scout Troop 910 in appreciation of quick thinking and resourcefulness which prevented a possible train accident at Devil's Lake, Wisconsin."

On a weekend camping trip a few weeks ago, the boys discovered a large tree which had fallen across the North Western's tracks near Baraboo during a rain and wind storm. Knowing that a yellow streamliner was due soon but not knowing from which direction, they split up into groups with some going up and down the track in each direction from the fallen tree while others dashed for a telephone to call the railroad.

Shortly after the boys had discovered the obstruction, the Dakota 400 passed Baraboo. The signals were clear and Engineer Harry Nelson had no reason to anticipate any trouble. Yet a short way down the track he saw the Scouts waving their neckerchiefs and flagging him to stop.

"The action of these Scouts is a dramatic indication of service to others for which the Boy Scout organization is famous," Feucht said. "We on the North Western have a very warm feeling for them."

The Junior High School bands will begin their weekly rehearsals on Wednesday June 29. The "C" band will rehearse at 10 a. m.; the "A" band at 11 a. m.; and the "B" band at 1 p. m.

On Thursdays, beginning June 30, Senior High band members interested in learning more about music theory and harmony will have the opportunity to study "Harmony" in the Senior High band room at 10 a. m. and all incoming Sophomores are required to attend weekly marching drills at 11 a. m. at the Senior High School on Thursdays.

The entire Escanaba Senior High School Band will rehearse weekly on Thursdays, June 30 through August 11 at 6:45 p. m. and band alumni are invited to participate in these evening rehearsals. The summer program for the senior band will be climaxed by parading for the Soo Centennial on Aug. 6 and a joint concert with the Escanaba City Band the second week in August.

A new feature of this year's summer program is the initiation of class piano being offered all interested students going into the 5th grade. The 35 students who registered for these classes have been divided into four groups and will take turns at the regular pianos in the classroom and will use dummy keyboards at their seats when not at the pianos.

The piano classes will be held in room 161 of the Junior High School on Thursday afternoons beginning June 30 and each student will receive a post card telling him the time he is to report, Meyer said.

Newspaper Ads Break Records

National advertisers are currently buying newspaper space at an all-time record rate of $650,000,000 a year, Harold S. Barnes, director of the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, declared today while retail newspaper advertising at the same time is setting new highs.

Noting that "virtually every newspaper lineage record in the book" was broken in May by the 120 newspapers covered by Media Records' 52-city Index, Barnes said that if the rate of increase of nation newspaper advertising will reach a higher peak than has ever been attained by any national medium.

"The proof seems clear," Barnes went on, "that newspaper advertising, on the part of both manufacturer and retailer, is playing a bigger and more productive role than ever in sustaining the dynamic growth of our national economy. More advertisers, both national and retail, are using more newspaper advertising for the cash register."

Media Records' 52-city May report established new records in every major area of newspaper advertising.

Professor Says Death Penalty Means More Criminals Go Free

Most public comment on the death penalty for crimes is heard after an especially revolting crime or when the Legislature has a capital punishment bill under debate. The first occasion leads to the deliberations a bitterness and the second brings forth partisan pressures that color judgment. The current consideration of the death penalty attaches to neither of these circumstances; it is inspired by a statement by Prof. Lowell J. Carr of the University of Michigan's sociology department.

A death penalty, says Professor Carr, makes the punishment of criminals less certain and so weakens the chief deterrent to crime. Since we lack a foolproof system of linking the criminal with his crime and because it is difficult to get juries to order the death penalty, we would be better off without one, says this expert on criminology.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Just a few days ago your columnist took part in what has come to be an American tradition—the return to school or college for class reunion. In any case the school was the Phillips Exeter Academy, the weather was pleasantly fair and the company of old friends and half-remembered acquaintances of 25 years ago brought pleasure far beyond my anticipation.

But the special delight for me was the discovery that several generations of Academy undergraduates have been busy at the task of recording the special language of Exeter students. Long forgotten are the catch phrases of my contemporaries two and a half decades ago, but—thanks to the regularly revised DICTIONARY OF THE EXETER LANGUAGE—the lively jargon of today's Exonians has been preserved for posterity.

Some of the coinages are amusing. "Sleeze," for instance. It's apparently a blend of "slink" and "squeeze" and means "to get by with the narrowest possible margin." Thus, in the words of the DICTIONARY: "I think I just about sleezed through that test," said a student due for a rude awakening when he gets his paper back.

Still on the ever-important subject of exams, there is one term which apparently dates back to December 7, 1941. In the parlance of Exeter students a "jap" is a "pusillanimous surprise test given the day before or the day after a test is expected—an underhanded device to catch students unaware." As the dictionary sagely notes, however, "to some pupils every test is a jap."

Nor is the romantic side of adolescent life slighted. A "Dear John" letter is defined as "a perfumed atom bomb that comes innocently into the post office and leaves nothing but death and destruction." The lads have their own heartless way of handling an unfavored member of the opposite sex, though. They call it a "Dear Mary" and define it as "a letter to a girl telling her gently but firmly that she is 'out of it.'"

Tomorrow we'll take another look at some of the other amusing entries in this Ivy League version of our REAL GONE LEXICON.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

The late and great cartoonist H. T. Webster once, in a pixie-like mood, chose twenty friends at random, and sent them a one-word telegram: "Congratulations." Only two phoned to ask why; the others sent notes of thanks. Each had recently enjoyed some minor achievement he deemed worthy of Webster's wire!

A big oil refinery got a letter from the Sahara Desert, complaining that its personnel's water rations were inadequate. The president pooch-pooched with "Those spoiled so-and-so's are always complaining," etc. "This time," answered his aide, "I think they mean it. Their postage stamp is attached with a pin."

The Doctor Says ... Cerebral Palsy Sufferers Need Careful Treatment

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M.D. — Written for NEA Service

There are somewhat more than 20,000 children born in the United States each year with an unfortunate disability known as cerebral palsy (formerly mistakenly called "spastic"). About two-thirds of the cerebral palsy victims are mentally normal. Approximately half of these are disabled enough in other respects to require special treatment.

An injury to the brain occurring before, during, or right after birth produces cerebral palsy.

The diagnosis can be made as a rule within the first six months of life and almost always by the time a youngster is a year old.

This diagnosis should be made early because the results of treatment are better if started promptly.

Children handicapped by cerebral palsy need both physical and mental care.

On the physical side there should be a long-range plan set up by the medical advisers with the cooperation of the home and the school. Special muscle training should be started at the earliest possible

Six states have the death penalty and 42—Michigan among them—do not and there is no significant difference in the rate of crime that can be traced to this factor. One fact from Carr's study does stand out, however. A study of sex-killers to find out what might have influenced their actions reveals that the sole significant figure was in the column about the attitude of the law enforcement officers that the criminals had had contact with, starting with kid reactions to the cop on the block.

History is full of the hangings of men and women for petty crimes and the frequency of the example had little effect because crime continued to flourish and the hangman's trade to prosper. Professor Carr confirms this with the assertion that crime doesn't hinge on the death penalty, although a rash of lurid crimes that are well-publicized always result in a call for the death penalty. It is so pat and superficially so seemingly proper that fiends should forfeit their lives for their crimes that it fits a campaign of outrage and indignation like a glove. But the record shows that it isn't effective.

"I'm opposed," says Professor Carr, "to the death penalty in any case where the criminal is convicted by what he's done, rather than by what he is, explaining that punishment should be in terms of the people and not the crime alone. 'I'd favor it—' if you're sure you've got your man—for professional criminals and for pathological criminals when there's no hope for cure," but he would never evoke it when the evidence is only circumstantial. "There's nothing so unreliable as circumstantial evidence or an eye-witness," he said. In this we must disagree with the professor, counting circumstantial evidence as worthy of much consideration, but sharing his reluctance to have it take a life. Eleven per cent of the lifers in Michigan are convicted by mistake," he says.

Our present corrections system in the United States, Professor Carr says, is inefficient, unscientific (there's only one psychiatrist for the whole state prison system), and "the whole thing is ridden with politics. The Southern Michigan prison riot wouldn't have occurred if officials had paid attention to 10 earlier reports of overcrowding.

"The processes of law are sabotaged by the best people—it's a rare person who doesn't try to get a traffic ticket fixed." And too little is spent on correction of criminals because the public is ignorant of the present system's failures.

The public apparently cannot be expected to interest itself in crime as a social problem which demands thinking and policies suited to our times, although it continues as a fascinating topic for whodone-its that have tremendous appeal as books, movies and TV programs. All that the who-done-its ask is who done it, never "What should we do with him?" Science recommends: Start early with problem children, keep society wholesome, set examples because they are more influential than precepts, make sane laws and enforce them impartially, make redemption of social offenders, rather than punishment, the aim of the corrections system. Michigan, with the one psychiatrist in its penal system, is a long way from these goals.

Success or failure in a golf game often hangs on a hook.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Those who make it their business to read Soviet newspapers and magazines, among them notably Mr. Harry Schwartz, have been struck by some recent articles written by important military men, all of them emphasizing that with nuclear weapons the decisive consideration is surprise. This is something new in the Soviet Union. In Washington it has, of course, long been the accepted assumption. In Washington it has, of course, long been the accepted assumption, and the two leading strategical doctrines are founded upon it.

The minority school, who believes in preventive war, say: Let us strike first or we shall be struck down. Those who believe in the "deterrent" defense, which is in fact the official doctrine, hold that a sneak attack will not be delivered provided the retaliatory striking power of the Strategic Air Force can be protected against the sneak attack: That the Russians will not destroy, as in Operation Alert, 61 American cities if the next day the United States Strategic Air Force will destroy 61 Russian cities. But the two schools agree that a sneak attack could be decisive, and that it must either be forestalled or deterred.

The question of the sneak attack, thanks to Pearl Harbor, is very much in our minds, and in our uninhibited way we discuss publicly and freely its possibility, its probability, and what can be done about it. But the Russians have not until recently talked publicly about surprise attacks. Yet it might fairly be called the crux of the crux of the modern problem of armaments and security.

Mr. Schwartz points out that these military articles in the Soviet press have come after the public demonstration in the air over Moscow that the Soviet Union now has inter-continental bombers. He believes the articles are meant to "readjust the thinking of Soviet military men" and "to warn the West." That may be. But the Soviet Union, being a totalitarian state, it does seem odd that Soviet military experts should be indoctrinating Soviet military men PUBLICLY in articles that are mailed to Washington. It is even more odd that the subject of this public indoctrination should be the importance of surprising your opponent by not letting him have warning that you will attack him.

This is so paradoxical that I cannot help wondering whether these articles are not addressed to the civilian governing class and to the party hierarchy, as well as to the Col. Blimps of the Red Army. The general purport of the articles is to tell the Russians that their ancient security—which was based on the vast bases of their country and the enormous masses of their soldiers—has been destroyed by the revolution in the military art. It is at least plausible that the progressive military men and the civilians who have understood the new warfare feel it necessary to re-educate the Soviet ruling class and what public there is that has to be taken into account publicly. They may well be training their audience to support the negotiation of compromises.

If this is the right explanation, it would be one more reason among many others for thinking that the central and determining reason for the reopening of negotiations between East and West is the over-all stalemate in nuclear armaments. The new weapons are something radically new—something altogether without precedent—in the military situation of the world, and they have now begun to revolutionize also the political relations of states.

From the point of view of high policy we are now in the third phase of this epochal military revolution. In the first phase the U. S. A. had a monopoly of the weapons. In the second phase the U. S. S. R. broke the monopoly. In this third phase, which is not technological but psychological, the governing classes of the world have gradually realized that the military revolution has revolutionized also the relations of the powers with one another.

Thus, there are now only two great military powers, and unless the one could disarm the other in the first assault—which is a technical improbability—war between them would be mere devastation and massacre without prospect of victory. All the other powers—including big powers like Great Britain and Germany and Red China—are by the very fact of their own helplessness in nuclear warfare compelled to make the avoidance of war the ultimate rule of their policy. As a result, the two great military powers must, under penalty of alienating their allies and the uncommitted nations, show and keep on showing that they are seeking an accommodation.

Whether or not it was the President's deliberate intention in authorizing Operation Alert at this time, the over-all psychological effect is to destroy all serious opposition to the coming negotiations. The exercise demonstrated not only that there is now no passive defense in the form of shelter and evacuation, but that for all practical purposes there can never be such a defense. It is conceivable that the inhabitants of 61 cities could go camping in the country for a few days in June. But the human mind boggles at what they would do for shelter in January, and at any time for water, food, fuel, and sewage disposal during the weeks and weeks on end while the cities were being decontaminated.

Young Herb Hoover, 51, Rates As Ace Diplomat In Washington

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON? Herbert Hoover Jr., poses with his famous father, the former President, while young Hoover's wife watches. GOP may have presidential ideas about Young Herb.

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—At a staff lunch at the State Department the other day an official was discussing a touchy diplomatic situation involving a wealthy Australian businessman. "I've known that guy for years," said one of the men at the table. "He's bullheaded, but if you play it straight with him you'll be O.K."

That bit of pithy, inside advice was offered by 51-year-old Herbert Hoover Jr., son of the former President and rated the hottest piece of executive-diplomatic talent the administration has discovered.

President Eisenhower at one of his recent breakfasts for Republican women half-seriously mentioned "young Herb" as presidential material. This could be the tip-off that the GOP has big things in store for him.

Hoover laughed uproariously when he heard of the President's remark, claiming that a political career was the last thing in the world he wanted. But the deep strain of public duty which influenced him to take the post of Under Secretary of State could be used to get him to take any important job administration leaders might plan for him, close friends say.

He has had the State Department spot for almost a year, during which time he has been acting-secretary in Dulles' frequent absences. But Hoover's distaste for publicity, an apparent inbred aloofness and preoccupation with work, has kept him out of the public eye.

However, a great capacity to learn along with other talents could make him a kind of Republican secret weapon some day, insiders predict.

He moves quietly around his plush suite, dressed in beautifully-tailored, conservative suits. His black, horned-rimmed glasses dramatize his steel gray hair and square, handsome face. He greets ambassadors with a suave grace. This first glance makes you think he has been in the diplomatic business all his life.

But then you talk to him and take a closer look. There's an icy, impersonal look in his blue eyes. His hamlike hand has a grip of iron and you can't see an ounce of fat on his huge square frame. This is the real Hoover, the man who has spent most of his life as an engineer around the oil fields of the world.

He has chewed out tough roustabouts with blue language, and made them take it. He has endured months of hard life on deserts, in mountains and on plains all over the globe, wherever some firm thought there might be oil. It's this background and experience, strange in the State Department, which accounts for much of the success he has enjoyed there.

The man who recalls Hoover's comment at the recent lunch says, you can hardly name a country or city around the world where Herb hasn't worked or lived. This gives him a broad, first-hand knowledge of international problems and personalities which some of the most experienced men in the department don't have.

Hoover made his fortune running scientific geological surveys around the world for the oil companies of practically every land. The secret of his success in the game was his unshakable integrity in not misusing the information he gathered for them. He could have exploited it in a hundred ways. Other firms did, which was why they weren't as successful as Hoover's firm.

Thus, when Secretary Dulles announced one day that there was a desperate need to send a man to Iran who not only knew the international oil picture, but was trusted by everyone in the industry, young Hoover's name came up.

"Herb was the only man in the world who fitted that description," says Herman Phleger, the State Department's legal adviser and long-time friend of Hoover. "So I recommended him for the job."

Hoover settled the difficult Iran oil dispute so successfully that Dulles and the President asked him to take the important State post.

Since then Hoover has shown himself to be a tough, demanding, but highly efficient administrator. He got his feet on the ground fast and began untangling some muddled lines of authority he found in the agency. He put Loy Henderson, a top foreign service veteran, in charge of administration.

This was both a shot-in-the-arm to foreign service morale and a boost to the department's efficiency.

Hoover's record and reputation are not unblemished, however. He's credited with a boner in framing a negative reply, when Dulles was out of town, to Communist China's suggestion for a meeting with the U. S. to work out Far East difficulties.

Some department employees feel he's too aloof, too difficult to approach and too precise in his demands for promptness, efficiency and attention to detail.

Although Hoover frankly admits he is not the gregarious type, he has surprised everyone with his talent for appearing to enjoy the three or four social affairs a week which he and his wife are forced to attend. He wears a hearing aid—from a childhood sickness—and it's natural that the rumor exists that he turns it off when a party or conversation bores him.

They have three married children and six grandchildren who visit them frequently in their large home in town. The Senior Hoover is also a regular visitor and may move in with them permanently.

There is a striking physical and personality similarity between the two men, who are very close. This similarity probably would be a mixed blessing for young Hoover if he is persuaded to enter politics.

Democrats swept into office in 1932 largely on a campaign against President Hoover masterminded by Charles McNamara. The next three Democratic campaigns were also directed against Hoover.

It was only natural therefore, when Ike hinted the younger Hoover had presidential possibilities, that Democratic politicians should greet the announcement with glee. Democrats still think that anyone named Hoover would be easy to beat.

Young Hoover has never campaigned for elective office. In his present job he has been making a few speeches. But he reads his prepared texts mechanically, somewhat like his father. He has no political sex-appeal in his personality.

Building him into a presidential candidate on a first try might be difficult.

But some Republicans think Hoover Junior might be presented as a vice-presidential possibility in 1956. The chance of this would be greater if Ike doesn't run.

But it is the general lack of any one strong Republican candidate for the presidency, in case Eisenhower doesn't run, that would make a better prospect of the name of Herbert Hoover Jr.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent) WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The most important vote in the United States prior to the presidential election in November 1956 is the Department of Agriculture's national wheat market quota referendum on June 25, 1955.

As a matter of fact, the swing of the farm vote in 1956 may be determined by the outcome of this wheat referendum.

The actual question on which the farmers will vote is:

"Are you in favor of marketing quotas for wheat for the 1956 crop?"

The outcome of this election will decide what government controls and price supports there will be on wheat planted in the fall of 1955 or the spring of 1956, and harvested in 1956.

There are an estimated 900,000 farmers eligible to vote in this election. Anyone who has a direct interest in the planting of 15 acres or more in wheat, in any of the 36 commercial wheat states, is eligible to cast a ballot. This will include about 600,000 farm owners and 300,000 tenants. Absentee landlords don't get a vote, but cash renters do.

Actually, only about 450,000 are expected to show enough interest in the referendum to cast a ballot in the county polling places. And two-thirds of the farmers voting must favor wheat marketing quotas before they can be put into effect.

In the 1953 election, 80 per cent voted "Yes." In the 1954 election 73 per cent voted, "Yes." This year's election is expected to be closer still. No one can predict how it will go.

Department of Agriculture tabulators will receive telegraphic returns in Washington all night. Some time Sunday they hope to announce the result, unless it's so close that a recount will be necessary.

The question on which the wheat farmers vote looks simple. But behind it is a tremendously complex economic situation.

The farmers are voting on marketing quotas—not on acreage allotments. The total commercial wheat acreage is set by law at 55 million acres for the nation.

If two-thirds of the farmers voting on June 25 decide they will accept quotas, then any cooperating farmer who violates his allotment is subject to a cash penalty on every bushel of excess wheat he produces.

If the farmers accept quotas, they will be eligible to receive price support at the level of 76 per cent of parity. Without going into all the complications of how the figure is obtained, this amounts to $1.81 a bushel, as a national average for all grades of wheat.

This compares with the May 15, 1955, parity price of $2.51. The drop reveals why farmers this time may vote against quotas.

If more than one-third of the voting farmers decide against quotas, then there will be no penalties for any excess wheat grown by any wheat farmer.

Acreage allotments would still remain in effect as the basis for eligibility to receive price supports.

The price support level, however, would by law be dropped to 50 per cent of parity or only $1.19 a bushel.

Some farm experts believe this level is so low that it would not be effective as an inducement for farmers to stay within their acreage allotment.

Farmers might decide to plant more wheat, so as to keep their income at a higher dollar level, even though the price was down. Wheat acreage might zoom back to the 78,000,000 figure of 1953. This would mean a tremendous over-production of wheat. And it would create a terrible problem of what to do with it.

By July 1, the government will have on hand approximately a billion bushels of wheat, worth two and a half million dollars.

A vote against quotas might be taken as an indication that farmers were tired of government farm programs. This would be the beginning of the end for price supports and return to a free market. Into this situation Congress might step, to take nobody knows what action, with an eye on the 1956 elections.

Traditional white was the choice of the bride who was given in marriage by her father. Her ballerina length gown was of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over slipper satin. The lace bodice was styled with a scalloped boat neckline, long, fitted sleeves and a petal point waistline. The full gathered skirt of lace had a matching scalloped hemline with an overskirt of nylon tulle. A pearl sequin covered headpiece, edged with pleated nylon tulle, secured her shoulder length veil of imported silk illusion. She carried red roses and white feathered carnations centered with a white orchid corsage.

Ballerina length gowns of faille taffeta with nylon lace overskirts and Juliet caps were worn by her attendants. Mrs. Peter Arsenault of Marquette, who was her sister's matron of honor, was in mint green and she carried a nosegay of yellow and white flowers. Colorful Party Saturday Evening At Highland Club

One of the most colorful and enjoyable parties of the season was the "Evening in Paris" dinner dance held Saturday evening at the Highland Golf Club with a record attendance of club members and guests.

Festivities opened with a cocktail hour, followed by dinner. Entertainment included a floor show by Gene Gory and Roberta, professional entertainers who make their home in Munising during the summer months and spend their winters touring the south and southwest. Dancing rounded out the party program. Arrangements were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. William Call and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owen and their committee.

MARRIAGE VOWS were repeated by Miss Sally Joan Wood and Kenneth A. Roth in a double ring ceremony Saturday afternoon at Memorial Methodist Church in Gladstone. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Wood, Gladstone, who gave the wedding reception at their home.

THE ADVANTAGES OF ORLON

For the past several years Orlon—a new synthetic fabric—has been very popular in industry, where it has been used in various ways for filters and things like that because of its great ability to resist the action of a wide variety of chemicals.

Right now it's beginning to appear on the market for consumer use. You'll find it in curtains, draperies, dresses, men's suits—this, that and the other.

You might, therefore, like to know what you can or cannot expect from it.

1. Orlon is stronger than rayon but not so strong as nylon. Cleanable in almost any available solvents, and is not affected by solvents which dissolve nylon and rayon. It is resistant to the effects of sunlight.
2. Orlon has not been found to shrink—but don't take this too much for granted, as the kind of weave is sometimes as important as the kind of fabric.
3. Orlon is more stain resistant. In fact, it is difficult to dye. Such dyes as it does take are not color fast to light, and also dissipate in cleaning, though not in washing.
4. Orlon is somewhat sensitive to heat. Finishing temperatures have to be kept at about the same level as for acetates.
5. Orlon will hold a crease longer. Unless you're careful, you might more or less get permanent wrinkles into it.

In other words, it's a fine fabric and should be quite a boon to our way of living—if we use it for what it's supposed to do and don't expect miracles from it. Pay particular attention to "blends"—treat them according to the weakest yarns woven into the fabric.

And speaking of "miracles" it is almost miraculous what we can do to clothes when we clean them.

The young pilot, who was just graduated from East Detroit High School, plans to enter the University of Michigan this fall where he will pursue further a knowledge of aviation by enrolling in the school of aeronautical engineering.

Michael has visited here on occasion at the Firkus family home, 1019 9th Ave. S. His parents are members of widely known Upper Peninsula families. Mrs. Goetz is the former Leone Firkus, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. William J. NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Business was snowed out of the snowball stand Mrs. Paul Spurlock's children set up outside her house.

Several male customers were wading into the icy confection and several more were clamoring for service.

Mrs. Spurlock went to investigate. She found the children had disdained the conventional fruit syrups and were spiking the snowballs with two bottles of her best liqueurs.

The snowball business melted away after she rescued the remaining half bottle.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market drifted quietly lower today after an irregular opening.

Trading was on the light side into early afternoon. Brokers looked on the decline as a natural development following the market's rise to record high levels last week.

Nearly all sections of the market retreated, but here and there unusual gains appeared. Advances of around 2 points were made by Allegheny Ludlum Steel and Mead Corp. Standard Oil of N.J., which rose sharply last week, moved into new high ground again today. Evans Products climbed a half-dozen points.

Among lower issues were Youngstown Sheet and Tube at one time, General Motors, Goodyear, Radio Corp., Kennecott, American Cyanamid, Santa Fe and Eastern Air Lines.

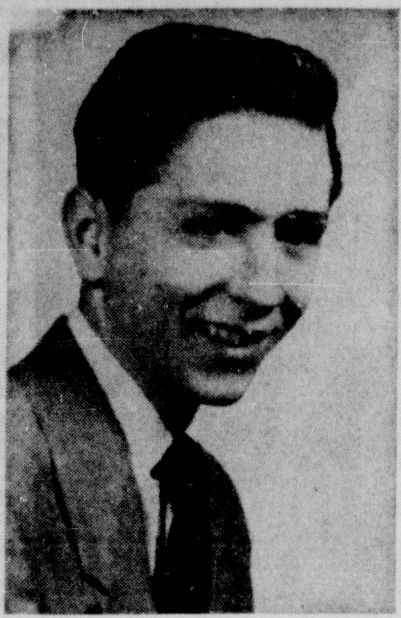

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks reached a record high of $172.80 on Thursday following a prolonged advance. On Friday the average dipped 30 cents under mild profit-taking.

U. S. Treasury issues were steady.

Transit Strike Knots Los Angeles Traffic

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Transit Lines strike, affecting about a million riders, moved into its second week and police planned today to combat ever-increasing traffic problems in the downtown area.

Federal conciliator Harry Malcom called company and AFL union representatives into session with only slight hope of progress. He said he would welcome "any ideas to get the show back on the road."

The transit lines' offer of a 12-cent hourly raise within two years was defeated by union vote last Friday. Some 2,300 bus and streetcar operators are involved in the dispute. They want a 20-cent boost from the previous $1.91 per hour.

CONTRACT BRIDGE By Josephine Culbertson

SLAM DOUBLES
PLAYERS who don't mind doubling slam contracts when they are "pretty sure" that they have two tricks, had better give more attention to the mathematics of bridge.

Suppose you don't double, and you defeat the slam one trick. You collect 50 or 100 points (according to the vulnerability). Now suppose you double, and purely as the result of that card-placing action, the declarer fulfills his contract, or runs to a different slam that you can't defeat. Your brassiness has cost you from about 1100 to about 1900 points—and all so that you might have gained 50 or 100 points!

It is rather obvious that this is not a sound investment—as West discovered in this deal.

C-C Directors Elect Officers

The Top O' Lake Chamber of Commerce board of directors, at an organizational meeting held Friday night at Triangle Square, re-elected Glen Critton, president, George Schweikert, vice president, and Alex Creighton, treasurer.

The meeting was the first held since Robert Hoar, Aldred Farley, Morris Laux and Donald Hoholik were elected to the 12-man board.

During the business meeting, President Critton appointed Herbert Peterson to confer with the postmaster relative to speedier mail service.

Courtesy Parking Tickets

It was pointed out that in recent months mail arriving at the Straits of Mackinac from Lower Michigan is not received in Manistique until late afternoon, because it is first brought by rail to Trout Lake and thence to Manistique by truck. The board hopes the mail can be brought here directly from St. Ignace by truck.

Secretary Heltman was instructed by the board to contact Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, on improvement of M-94 through the Hiawatha National Forest. Federal funds will be available for the work in 1956 and the improvement has long been overdue, directors stated.

The Chamber's governing body also endorsed the courtesy parking ticket arrangement for visitors, under sponsorship of the Lions club here for the past several years.

Mission Restoration

Plans for restoration of the old Jesuit Mission at Indian Lake, founded by the late Bishop Baraga, were discussed, and a committee has been appointed to meet with the Rev. F. M. Scheringer, pastor of St. Francis de Sales church.

The site, which is adjacent to the grave of the Indian chief Ossawinamakee, may be of interest to the Michigan Historical society, and would be a tourist attraction here, the board of directors noted.

Also discussed, Friday night were removal of shade trees in various sections of the city, and large stumps left between the sidewalk and curb where they have been removed.

NEW OFFICERS were elected by the Top O' Lake Chamber of Commerce at an organizational meeting held here Friday night. The 12-man board re-elected Glen Critton, president, George Schweikert, vice president, and Alex Creighton, treasurer. Trash Cans Help City With Tidiness Drive

The campaign against litterbugs which Escanaba is developing under the sponsorship of its city government, the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, the Delta County Road Commission and other agencies, can draw ideas for achievement from many sources.

Marinette, says George Robbins, secretary of the Marinette Chamber of Commerce, has found the placement of refuse cans about the business area of the city substantially successful in the reduction of litter on the streets.

"I don't mean," said Robbins "that we don't have any litter, but it is noticeable that we have less and we are gaining in this pleasant business of making our thoroughfares more sightly."

"Marinette got the idea for trash cans when a delegation from Marinette and Menominee attended a harbor convention in Muskegon, where such cans were in use. The Marinette Lions club financed the project, paying $27 apiece for 10 of the cans. They are painted grey and have white hands on the tilt top and the lettered message on the sides "The cleanliness of your city is in your hands" and "Compliments of the Lion Club."

"During our spring cleanup we found debris on our downtown streets, but at the weekly emptying of the cans we now find them about half full of beer cans, paper, cigarette packs and other debris. They have been placed at bus stops and other such strategic locations where people with trash to dispose of gather.

We were fearful that we might have trouble with burning of the burlap bags in the containers by discarded cigarettes, but we have not. The kids don't bother them and the only trouble we've had is getting them dented by cars when they're too near a curb.

Club Opposing Flies Only Rule

The Germfask-Seney Lions Club has asked the State Conservation Commission to rescind its order closing the east branch of the Fox River from the trout rearing station to the foot bridge at Robinson's for five years from Jan. 1, 1955 to all fishing except with artificial flies. The restriction requires that trout taken be nine inches and makes five the limit.

A communication to the commission signed by Louis Hartman, of Germfask, president of the club, and Earl Sadler of Seney, secretary, states that "Germfask and Seney both derive part of their income from sportsmen and the closed portion of the stream is the most accessible part of one of our most accessible trout streams. Tourists unfamiliar with our country can be directed there and be fishing in 10 minutes. The stream closely parallels the highway and strangers of children cannot get lost for more than a short time. The casual tourist is happy if he catches two or three planted trout.

"From our experience with the people who come here to fish brook trout the percentage of exclusive fly fishermen is very, very small. It seems like a pure case of discrimination to lose the most accessible part of one of the best streams to all except a few fishermen who can afford to spend a lot of money for equipment and all their spare time fishing.

"A few years ago our area probably had as many game violators as any area of its size in Upper Michigan, but the last few years the people have become conservation minded and the violations now are probably as low as in any area its size in Upper Michigan. However, if a few teenagers who have always fished the closed portion of the east branch are arrested and fined $250 and get 90 days in jail the Conservation Department could become very unpopular.

"If the department must have a stream on which to experiment, why not consult with the community in which they wish to establish it and choose a spot that would be favorable to the community as well as the small percentage of exclusive fly fishermen?"

Kind Old Gentleman Gives $1000 Each To 9 Jackson Churches

JACKSON (AP)—At least nine Jackson churches received $1,000 each last week from a kindly old man who visited them, leaving an envelope and asking a receipt made out to "A Willing Donor."

In leaving his envelopes he asked anonymity and his instructions varied only slightly on how to use the 10 one hundred dollar bills that each envelope contained.

Instructions ran: "Use it where it will do the most good . . . Do you have any debts? . . . Use it any way you want . . ."

Concerns Reward

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The Rev. J. S. Scherer wants his reward in the hereafter—but all in due time. Dr. Scherer, a Lutheran clergyman in Richmond for nearly 50 years, told a group of Roanoke Ministers: "If tickets were offered me, one for a stay in heaven and the other in Virginia, I would choose the ticket to Virginia. I want to go to heaven—but not today."

In This Corner
With Ray Crandall

At least one vacated coaching position in Upper Peninsula high school circles has been filled during the past week. John Krznarich, who asked to be relieved of his Ironwood basketball coaching duties at the close of the past season, has been replaced by James Cook, 24, of New Carlisle, Ohio, a graduate of Defiance College, Ohio. Cook coached last year at Northwestern High School in Springfield. He'll also serve as assistant football coach to John Ostrom.

John Martinac, the ex-St. Joe three-spot star, continues to make the headlines with his baseball talent in the armed service. John, who has been shifted from his familiar spot on third base to second, made the Rhine Conference all-star team recently. Martinac drew the third highest number of votes on the first team, which was selected after the first half of season play in the league. His Engineers team finished in third, largely due to Martinac's tremendous batting which produced a .429 average on 39 hits in 91 trips, including four homers.

There are rumors floating around concerning possible coaching shifts in the Peninsula in the near future. Without intention of spreading such unverified reports, but just to show how things get around the Upper Peninsula, here are a few possibilities: Guss Lord, formerly at Ontonagon, is interested in the Stephenson job and Bill Jennings of Newberry has been in touch with school officials at Negaunee and Ishpeming.

Burt Gustafson, former Escanaba High School head coach, passed through last week enroute to Canada where he will serve as a counselor at a boys' summer camp again this year. Burt moved to Battle Creek last year and served as end coach in football, assistant track coach and Bee team basketball mentor. He plans to return to Battle Creek in the fall.

Middlecoff Blazes To Western Open Victory

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff headed for his Memphis, Tenn., home today for a three-week rest after pocketing the $2,400 top money in the 52nd annual Western Open here.

The golfing dentist came from behind with a dramatic 29-34-63 in the final round Sunday to overtake Mike Souchak, husky Durham, N.C., pro, who had led him by four strokes after 54 holes. Middlecoff, at 272, was 16 strokes under par for the four-day, 72-hole event.

He tied the Portland Golf Club course's 18-hole record, clubbing out nine birdies.

Souchak battled hard to catch Middlecoff, who plays out of Kiamisha Lake, N.Y. Souchak ended the first nine holes in 34 to find that the dentist was one stroke ahead of him.

But the powerful Souchak's approaches and putts were not sharp enough. He finished with 34-35-69 for a total of 274.

Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., and Bob Rosburg, San Francisco, tied for third at 275.

Littler, an ex-national amateur champion, came in with 33-34-67 for the round. Rosburg shot 36-32-68.

Souchak won $1,800. Littler and Rosburg each took away $13,000.

Fifth place and $1,000 went to Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., with 276.

Bears Taste First Defeat In Tri County Loop Play

The Escanaba Bears tasted defeat for the first time in Tri County League competition yesterday as they bowed to Daggett 7-6 in an error-studded 10-inning clash at Daggett.

The defeat came after four straight league victories for the Bears who are back in the Tri County this season after a two-year absence.

Escanaba took a 6-5 lead into the ninth inning but couldn't protect it for pitcher Harlan Breitman. Daggett tied it up when shortstop J. Martin was safe on an error at second base and scored on a single to right field by Baunler with two away.

Defense Falls Apart
The Bears had a man on in the top of the tenth, Jim Brown singling, but couldn't get him around.

Escanaba's defenses fell completely apart in the last of the tenth when four straight miscues allowed Daggett to put a runner across the plate with the winning tally with none out.

The loss was a tough one for young Harlan Breitman, ex-Escanaba Eskymo hurler. Breitman gave up only six hits, five of them singles, going the route for Escanaba. The slim right-hander whiffed seven batsmen.

Breitman couldn't find the range in the first inning in which Daggett scored three runs. He issued three walks and surrendered a pair of hits to get in early trouble.

Gets 11 Hits
The Bears came back with a run in the second and two in the third to tie it 3-3. Daggett shoved ahead with two more tallies in the fifth on a double, single and two Escanaba errors.

A run in the sixth and two in the seventh gave the Bears their 6-5 lead going into the last of the ninth.

The Bears reached Daggett hurler Mulzer for 11 hits, including doubles by Wally Flath, Hugh Ray and Jim Beck. Mulzer fanned seven and walked only three.

Burkemo Back In 1953 Form Clairmont Nips Harnies, 10-9

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Wally Burkemo, showing the form that brought him the PGA crown two years ago, came from fifth place at the half-way mark to win the Michigan Open Golf tournament Sunday.

The Detroit pro added rounds of 70 and 67 to a pair of 1-under par 71's for a 279 total.

He was seven shots ahead of his nearest rival, Max Evans, unattached Utica pro.

Burkemo made his fine stand just a week after bowing out of the National Open with scores of 82-84.

His one-man show over the 6,639-yard course of the Washtenaw Country Club brought Burkemo a first prize of $750.

Evans' 69-70 performance brought him second money of $500.

Jim Barfield, 50, Grand Rapids veteran, earned $400 for his even-par 288—good for third place.

Mike Dietz, who led the first two rounds with 67-71, skidded to 77-74, and tied Bob Inman for fourth at 289.

Another notch back at 290 were Chuck Kocsis, Tom Talkington, and 1951 champ John Barnum of Grand Rapids.

Clairmont Transfer put the clamps on the American League softball standings last night by handing Harnischfeger its third straight defeat, 10-9, in an error-filled game.

The Harnies now hold a slim edge at the top of the league standings with a 10-3 record. Clairmont and Paper Mill are 9-3 and the Dells is in fourth with 8-3.

Clairmont led 7-3 in the second and 10-5 in the top of the third. Harnischfeger made it close by scoring three in the fifth and one in the sixth but couldn't catch up. They had runners on second and third with two out in the final inning.

John Baker allowed 14 hits from the Clairmont mound. Bob Triest and Pat Moran shared the mound chores for Harnischfeger and gave up six hits.

Ed Gauthier led both teams at the plate with three hits in four times up and Moran collected a homer for the Harnies. Bob Laviolette and Bud Weber had a pair of hits each for Clairmont.

U.S. Open Champion Wants More Action

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Fleck, a golfing nonentity until he won the U.S. Open a week ago, still was weighing a bagful of money making offers today — but he's sure of only one thing:

He wants to get back to the tournament circuit.

"I've had all sorts of financial offers," he said as he took a breather between television appearances. "But I want to stay in golf and I will. I want to get back to the game as soon as possible."

The 32-year-old Davenport, Iowa, professional beat Ben Hogan in a playoff for the title.

"Right now, though," he added, "I'm not quite sure what my schedule will be except the P.G.A. championship in Detroit starting July 20."

Asked what happened when President Eisenhower was looking for him the day after he won the Open, Fleck replied:

"I just had my breakfast and went off on a little sightseeing," he related. "But when I returned I was told that I was a hard man to find. That the President would like to talk to me. And so I was whisked off by the secret service."

"The President made me feel at home right away and I told him that my experience in meeting him couldn't happen anywhere except in the United States. I have been invited back to the White House on July 11. That's my only set commitment."

Cubs Cop 2-0 Victory In Fine Mound Battle

The Escanaba Cubs notched their third straight Waubung League victory here yesterday by besting Carney 2-0 in a brilliant pitching duel.

Ricky Erickson fired one-hit ball to get the decision over Carney's Mike Dolack who also allowed only one safety. Erickson whiffed nine and walked two while Dolack fanned two and didn't issue a free pass to first.

The Cubs scored their first run in the second inning when Dave Viau was safe on an error, stole second base, advanced to third on another error and scored on Frank Katarinski's fly ball to deep center field.

Juettten Gets Hit
Katarinski gave the Cubs their second run in the fifth. He was safe on an error at second, moved to third on a sacrifice by Dan Rousseau and was squeezed home with a perfect bunt by Ricky Erickson.

The Cubs got their only hit of the game in the first inning when first baseman Joe Juettten cracked out a single. Erickson's bid for a no-hitter was spoiled by Dick Stanss, Carney center fielder, who singled with one out in the sixth. Stanss stole second base but was picked off there on a peg from catcher Allen Erickson to second baseman Billy Goodreau.

Rapid River Wins To Take Lead In Bay De Noc League

Results Yesterday
Rapid River 6, Gladstone 2.
Manistique 7, Perkins 3.
Garden 6, Cornell 5.
Cooks 12, Trenary 11.

Rapid River vaulted into the top spot in the Bay de Noc League standings yesterday by pinning a 6-2 defeat on former leader Gladstone.

Waldon Johnson returned to the Rapid River hill and whiffed 16 batsmen while scattering seven hits. J. C. Miller's triple in the fifth was the only extra base blow off the Rapid River hurler.

Rapid reached Ray Menard on the Gladstone mound for 10 safeties. Nook Nelson led the plate attack with three hits, including a double, while Johnson picked up two and Dick Miller hit a single and a double.

Rapid River scored first in the third inning and then clinched the victory with a three-run spurt in the fifth, highlighted by Nelson's double that scored Lou Whipple and Dusty Malnor.

Rapid added insurance runs in the sixth and eighth to spread the margin to 6-1 before Gladstone scored its second run in the bottom of the eighth.

The victory puts Rapid River a half-game ahead of Gladstone on top of the league ladder, marking the first time Rapid has led the circuit.

Rapid River will have a double header to get out of the way next weekend.

Cooks - aged Trenary 12-11 in a homer - studded game. Aho slammed two home runs, one with the bases loaded in the sixth that tied the score at 11. Ed Heribacka also homered for Trenary.

Cooks scored the deciding run in the eighth inning when Harold Carley crossed the plate on a fielder's choice off the bat of Keith Cutler. Carley had singled and advanced on an error.

Ron Johnson and Orville Olson shared mound duties for the winners while Taylor and Dick Ruikka twirled for Trenary.

At Perkins yesterday the Manistique Cardinals registered a 7-3 victory for their third win against two defeats.

Jim Cowman carved the mound win by scattering eight hits, fanning nine and walking none. Cowman helped himself with a home run in the seventh to break a 3-3 tie. The Cards came up with three runs in the top of the ninth to salt away the win.

Fred Lesica and DeMars collected three hits each off Neurhor to lead the Cards at the plate. LeClaire had three of the Perkins hits. Neurhor gave nine hits, whiffed 12 and walked three.

Purdue Golfer Grabs Crown

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Purdue University's Joe Campbell won the National Collegiate Golf Championship Sunday, defeating Johnny Garrett of Rice 3 and 2.

The 36-hole match was spread over two days with the players all even after the first 18 Saturday.

Campbell, a 19-year-old from Anderson, Ind., took a one-up lead on the 20th hole, increased his lead to four-up on the 28th, dropped the 33rd to a birdie three, and halved the 34th with a par four to close out the match.

Garrett, 19-year-old sophomore from Houston, missed his best opportunity to trim Campbell's lead on the 29th and 30th when the Hoosier took a pair of bogeys.

Campbell, already a Indiana's amateur and public links champ, set out after another Indiana championship today — the junior championship over the Purdue course at Lafayette.

Cards Have Pair Of Aces

(By The Associated Press)
The Associated Press
If St. Louis outfielder Bill Virdon doesn't win the National League Rookie of the Year award, his teammate, pitcher Luis Arroyo, will. Anyway, it's almost a cinch to be in the Cardinal family.

Virdon was the whole show Sunday as the Cardinals swept both ends of a double-header for the first time this year, walloping the New York Giants 9-2 and 7-2. The bespectacled center fielder batted in six runs with a single, two doubles, a triple and home run to boost his average to .324.

Saturday night, Arroyo whipped the Giants for his ninth victory against two losses (both by one-run margins). The Puerto Rican southpaw leads all National League hurlers with a brilliant 2.01 earned run average.

Howard, Score Star
A couple of American League rookies — New York's Elston Howard and Cleveland's Herb Score — boosted their stock as the Yankees increased their first-place lead to three games with a split against the Indians. Howard singled and scored the insurance run as the Yankees shut out the Indians 2-0 behind Whitey Ford's four-hitter in the nightcap. Early Wynn furnished the Indians with their only victory in the four-game set with a nifty three-hit 5-0 performance in the opener.

Tigers Expect Sterner Opposition In Chicago

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers looked westward to Chicago today and to sterner stuff than the seventh-place Washington Nationals.

Detroit ended a four-game series with the Nats Sunday splitting a double header 6-4 and 4-12. The nightcap defeat was Detroit's only loss of the series. It left them with a 5-7 won-lost mark on the eastern leg of their long road trip.

They'll meet Chicago, Kansas and Cleveland before they return to Briggs Stadium.

Pinch Hit Wins
Ferris Fain's pinch single saved the Tigers in the opener. He singled with two out in the ninth inning, scoring Renno Bertioia and giving Detroit a 4-4 tie.

Detroit then pushed across two runs in the tenth off loser Dean Stone as Al Kaline walked, Jack Phillips and Ray Boone singled and Bubba Phillips hit a sacrifice fly.

Unbeaten Al Aber who followed starter Ned Garver and Babe Birner in the ninth won his fourth game.

In the second game, Washington rapped out 12 hits. Eight of them were good for extra bases. The victory snapped a nine-game losing streak for the Senators.

Larry Suffers Loss
Detroit used four pitchers after pulling Frank Lary in the fourth in a futile attempt to check the National onslaught. Lary was marked with the loss.

There was one out in the last half of the ninth in the opener and the Senators were holding a 4-3 lead when third baseman Bob Kline fumbled Bubba Phillips' bunt. Phillips was forced by Ted Wilson, but Harry Malmberg walked and Fain batted for Ned Garver. He singled to center scoring pinch-runner Bertioia.

Jim Small, running for Fain, stumbled over third base and injured his right ankle. He was taken to the hospital on a stretcher. Preliminary examination disclosed no broken bones in the rookie bonus player's ankle.

Hurricane Jackson Meets Slade Again

(By The Associated Press)
Tommy Jackson, the heavy-weight hurricane who blew himself out, will try and stir up a stiff breeze tonight in a return 10-rounder with Jimmy Slade, the ring "cutie" from New York.

It was Slade who halted Jackson's meteoric rise 14 months ago. The veteran 28-year old whipped the strapping, 23-year old Jackson in a 10-rounder.

Nino Valdes further deflated Jackson by stopping him in the second round three months later. Since then the 191-pound, 6-2 1/2 Jackson has won five straight over mediocre opposition. He is rated the fourth contender.

Slade has lost four of his last five.

The bout at New York's St. Nicholas Arena will be telecast (Dumont-TV, 8 p. m. CST).

Bob Nieman, outfielder for the Chicago White Sox, led the Texas League in hitting in 1951. He hit .323.

waukee shut them out 4-0 behind Bob Buhl's five-hitter. The runner-up Chicago Cubs advanced to within 12 1/2 games of the Brooks, splitting their double-header with Pittsburgh. The Pirates won the opener 5-4 but the Cubs bounced back with a 2-1 victory to retain a half-game lead over the third-place Braves.

Cincinnati climbed to within one percentage point of the fourth-place Giants, knocking off the Philadelphia Phillies twice 16-5 and 5-0. The Reds made short work of Robin Roberts with three-run rallies in the first and second innings.

Cards Cop Two
The Cardinals moved past the Phillies into sixth place as Harvey Haddix turned in his fifth success and rookie Larry Jackson his third. Stan Musial chipped in with his 14th home run.

Eddie Mathews made it easy for Buhl to register his fifth triumph, smashing his 17th homer of the season with two mates aboard in the eighth.

Vern Law pitched and batted the Pirates to victory with a home run and single that drove in three runs. Clyde McCullough singled in both Chicago runs in the second game as Bob Rush outpitched Lino Donoso despite the Pittsburgh rookie's three-hitter.

Wynn, sidelined the first three weeks of the season because of sickness, notched his 10th triumph against two losses with his three-hitter against the Yankees. Ralph Kiner's 10th homer was all he needed.

Tosses One-Hitter
Willard Nixon won his own game in the opener for the Red Sox with a bases-loaded double in the eighth that broke up a 2-2 deadlock. Jackie Jensen took charge in the second game, driving in three runs with his 15th homer and two singles.

Southpaw Alex Kellner turned in a brilliant one-hitter and drove in the only run in the Athletics' 1-0 victory over Jim Wilson of Baltimore. Gus Zernial hit his 16th four-bagger as Ray Herbert gained his first win of the year in the nightcap.

After Ferris Fain's pinch hit single drove in the tying run in the ninth, Detroit sewed up the game in the 10th on Al Kaline's walk and hits by Jack Phillips and Ray Boone. Washington smashed eight extra-base hits in the nightcap, including a pair of two-run triples by Roy Sievers.

Buhl Blows Down Brooklyn By 4-0

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bob Buhl blew down the league leader Brooklyn Dodgers with his fast ball Sunday, hurling the Milwaukee Braves to a five-hit 4-0 shutout. Ed Mathews drove in three of the runs with his 17th homer of the season.

By blanking the National League pace setters Buhl evened his record at 5-5 and trimmed his earned run average to a neat 2.92. Buhl retired the Dodgers in order in four innings, struck out five and gave up just one walk.

The Braves had a 1-0 lead — on an unearned run let in by Pee Wee Reese's error in the sixth — until Mathews blasted a Jim Hughes bunt over the right field wall. Buhl had singled, his first hit of the year, and Johnny Logan had followed suit in front of Mathews' circuit smash.

The Dodgers hurlers had shied away from Mathews twice in the game giving him intentional walks.

The victory gave the Braves the series with the Dodgers, two games to one, and put them back into second place over the Chicago Cubs.

Brooklyn starter Russ Meyer had the Braves shut out on six hits in the fifth when he suffered a leg bruise in a collision with Billy Bruton on the first base line. Meyer tossed to two more batters, giving up a double to Logan and a walk to Mathews, and then was lifted in favor of Roebuck. The unearned run on Reese's error gave Roebuck his third loss against four wins.

Whitfield Sees Record Smashed

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — It appears that Mal Whitfield's reign as Olympic 800-meter champion is over.

Mal, who won the Olympic race in 1948 and 1952, sat on the sidelines Saturday as three runners broke the recognized world mark he held jointly with Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark in the 880-yard dash.

Arnie Sowell of the University of Pittsburgh sped home first in the event at the national AAU track and field championships here in 1:47.6 — a full second under the world standard.

Tom Courtney of Fordham was runnerup in 1:48 and Billy Tidwell of the Emporia (Kan.) State Teachers still in 1:48.1.

Whitfield told newsmen he would bypass the 880 in favor of the 400-yard dash. But he was beaten in the latter event by Charles Jenkins of Villanova. Whitfield finished fourth. The time was one-tenth of a second over the prevailing AAU meet record.

Williams At Home With Aching Back

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, sidelined for three days with an aching back, was left home today as the Boston Red Sox flew to Pittsburgh for an exhibition game tonight with the Pirates.

The big slugger, who missed the Red Sox four-game series with the Chicago White Sox, said he is hopeful of returning to the lineup in Washington Tuesday.

Lefty Gomez still holds the best won and lost record ever turned in by a Yankee pitcher. In 1934 he won 25 and lost five.

Fatigue Takes Toll Of Distance Demons On Vacation Jaunts

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
For Ha' Boyle

CHICAGO (AP)—This is the time of the year the amateur iron-man type driver loads his family into the car and grimly whooshes off toward some far distant vacation spot.

Will he settle for 400, 500 or even 600 miles a day?

Not this character. He's a time-tested, 700-plus miles-a-day demon who voraciously gobbles up those tedious distances.

He carts along fruit, sandwiches and a jug full of coffee for the family. The normal road break for lunch is not for the likes of him. He's going places on a tight driving schedule that runs from sun-up to sun-down.

Reaction Slowed

Will he get there in one piece? Mr. Iron-Man simply oozes self-confidence on this point. After all, he's a top-notch driver, he hasn't consumed any intoxicating liquor and hard driving doesn't make him feel sleepy or tired.

But safety experts and scientists who have studied the insidious effects of fatigue take a dimmer view of his chances.

If he doesn't doze off momentarily or run headlong into an emergency that calls for a hair-trigger decision and response, the experts concede he'll probably make out all right.

But whether he knows it or not, the long grind of steady driving will slow down his reaction machinery and drop his vision and hearing ability below par.

Knowledge of these slow-down effects is based on actual field and laboratory tests of the primary functions mostly closely related to hours of driving.

One such study was made by the U. S. Public Health service. Scientists tested truck drivers before and after a long stint at the wheel and after sleeping and resting.

Tests Tell Story

Drivers were given intricate manual tasks and then timed with a stop-watch. They also were tested for simple reaction time, reaction-coordination time, and manual steadiness.

In one of these tests, the drivers grasped an object shaped like a pencil and, as rapidly as possible, alternately tapped two small brass plates separated by a block of wood. In another, they had to jab a pointed object through a series of different sized small holes, without touching the sides.

In each of the tests, the men who had not driven since sleep made the best showing. Only 9 per cent of this group failed to reach the efficiency level. But 42 per cent failed in the group which had driven 12 or more hours.

Studies conducted for the U. S. Navy by Dr. Arthur H. Steinhaus, professor of physiology and dean of George Williams College, Chicago, show that fatigue considerably recedes the ability to see, especially in dim light.

Michigan was the first state to build concrete roads.
